

HOW DO YOU KNOW IF A LOCATION IS HAUNTED?

Hauntings are not always obvious and not usually scary or dangerous. In fact, it can often be confusing to tell if a home is haunted. It takes some investigation to figure out if what is happening is in fact paranormal.

What leads to you start investigating if your home is haunted is probably things that happened that seem unexplainable. You may feel cold spots or hear odd noises. In some case you may have seen something that seemed paranormal in nature. Whatever happened, something has brought you to the point where you feel you need to look further to see if your location is, indeed, haunted.

One of the first places to start in your investigation is doing some research into the location. You will want to look into the history of the home and the history of the land. Find out what used to be there. Go as far back as possible. You want to find out if something happened here that would trigger a haunting. Usually this would be a traumatic or major event.

Sometimes there are obvious explanations for what is happening. With some research and investigation you can uncover reasonable explanations for the things happening in your home. You want to look at each instance that has occurred and try to find an explanation that is not paranormal in nature. Too often people simply label something as paranormal without trying to see if there is another explanation for the event.

A good example of a common misunderstanding deals with cold spots. Most people have heard that spirits or ghosts leave a cold spot where they have been. When someone feels a cold spot they may believe that they have felt a ghost. In reality many cold spots are caused by air leaking through a drafty window or seeping in through an improperly insulated fixture.

Another common misunderstood event is shaky. Hollywood has many people convinced that spirits are very interested in shaking things to scare us, so it is no surprise that anyone who feels something shaking will immediately think it is a ghost. In reality, many instances of unexplained shaking can actually be explained. Airplanes going overhead or even trains can cause shaking and they do not have to be right close to the area to do so.

As part of your investigation you should check isolated events. Try to recreate the event exactly as it was. Set up the area in the same way it was when the event occurred. Make sure you account for all people and pets. You want to check for drafts and try to find an explanation for what happened.

When you are suffering a serious case you should completely check your whole home. Look at the electrical set up, the plumbing and check out all insulation. Many times faulty devices or aging fixtures can be to blame to supposed hauntings.

HOW ACCURATE ARE TAROT READINGS?

Lay all your cards on the table and the tarot reader will do the rest for you. Sometimes, one will wonder how another person can read a bunch of cards with different pictures on it and actually make sense out of it. What is more surprising is how card readers can tell who you are, recall your past and predict what is likely to happen in the future. This is despite the fact that you have never met in your lifetime and you just laid eyes on each other. Some people affirm that tarot readings have indeed conveyed some truth about their lives and what is yet to come.

It is no wonder then that people regularly come to get tarot readings and make it their constant guide in making important life decisions. Subsequently, a significant few continue to get intrigued by tarot reading and get persuaded to give it a try. Still others do not believe in any of it and dismiss it as mere coincidence. This then brings us to the question: How accurate are tarot readings?

Surprisingly, tarot reading has existed for centuries and there are numerous tarot readers in the land. Tarot reading is even a skill that you yourself can learn and be proficient at. It is imperative though that you watch carefully as to how this is being done to ensure the accuracy of the tarot readings. There are three areas that need to be considered: the tarot cards, the type of questions and your mindset.

Tarot reading is impossible without the tarot cards, the card that you will use should be properly selected and you should find that card will suit you if you intend to do the reading on your own. While searching for one and you get attracted to a particular deck, then you should follow your intuition. Afterwards, you can start getting yourself immersed with learning the various styles of reading, you can even interview, with permission, a tarot reader of good reputation to help you out in this endeavour.

Next, you are ready to consult the tarot with the questions you have in mind, don't forget though that the tarot is meant to be a guide and not an all-knowing magician. Therefore, you should be able to compose wide-ranging questions about relationships and events in your life that you need help with. Questions such as who you will end up with and how long you are going to be together may not be answerable through the tarot.

Since tarot reading accuracy is the focus here, it is also important that as you do your reading you are in the right mindset. Yes, you may be bothered by something at the moment that you needed to consult the tarot, but an unclear mind will not get you to connect with the tarot and find the precise answers. What you can do then is to condition your mind before starting the reading, begin with some breathing exercises and focus on the task at hand.

HOW DO TAROT READINGS WORK?

Tarot cards are a tool that is used to help us communicate with the spirit world. These cards are not magical or even special on their own. The tarot cards only serve as a tool and it is the person using them that has the psychic power to interpret what the cards mean in a reading.

In order to understand exactly how tarot cards work you need to understand a little about the spirit realm. Spirits communicate in a non-verbal way, through thoughts. They are not bound by time since time does not exist in the spirit realm as it does here. Sometimes it is difficult for a spirit to communicate their message clearly through thought alone. This is where tarot cards come in.

When you get a tarot reading the spirit communicates through the psychic reader who is able to pick up the thoughts of the spirit. In order to make communication easier the reader uses the tarot cards. The spirit directs which cards are laid in order to communicate their message clearly.

Tarot cards are similar to a pack of playing cards. The tarot deck consists of 76 cards. There are four suits - pentacles, cups, swords and wands- which collectively is called the minor arcana. There is also a group of cards called the major arcana.

The minor arcana has 15 cards in each suit for a total of 52 cards. The cards range from the ace through the number ten and then each suit has a page, knight, queen and king. The minor arcana cards represent everyday happenings and events. They are considered to be the things in your life for which you have control over. When you receive a minor arcana card in a reading it means it is something that you can change.

The major arcana consists of 22 cards. These cards each feature a main theme. The major arcana cards are said to represent life lessons. These are things that you must learn and are written as part of your destiny. You cannot change these things. It is important to pay attention to any major arcana card that comes up in your reading.

The basic idea of a tarot reading is that it is meant to be a guide for you. You are to take what you learn in a tarot reading and use that to help you make decisions about what to do. The tarot cannot tell you what definitely will happen in your future. This is because things are in a state of constant change. Every day you make decisions that will change how things will happen in the future. You have freewill, which means that you can make decisions and make changes in your life as you see fit. The future is not written in stone, so the tarot helps you to see what you can do to change it if you do not like what is set to happen.
